Michigan is a wonderful state and it has a wonderful governor. After a talk of two house with him we wondered how he was elected—upon what grounds he held such a position. Entirely unfitted physically and intelletually, the mystery is one we cannot Solve

In the same party we had the pleas ure of meeting Harry Conant, secretary of the state. What a contrast to bend officer! Intelligent and pleasant, and his conversation at Ages period him fully conversant with the duties of his position, and we then wished the governor was home piling slabs, or directing it done, and that the secretary held his position at the head of the state capitol.

Such a man would be a credit to to important a state as Hichigan and people would point to him with pride, whereas the head officer we are so unfortunate to process is bringing ridicule upon us by reason of his ig of his duties.—Ishpeming nomnee Iron Agitator.
